

FROM NUMBERS TO NAMES

Discovering Loved Ones and Relatives Lost in the Holocaust

What We Do

From Numbers to Names provides a new way to explore Holocaust photo and video archives through AI. We're helping to identify faces in collections from the late-1800s into the post-war period.

PHOTOGRAPHS & VIDEOS

Searchable photograph collections come from The US Holocaust Memorial Museum, Yad Vashem, and other online sources. We are actively working on making video collections searchable as well.

CASE STUDIES

PNINA

A wonderful discovery brought some comfort and added one more meaningful memory to a grieving daughter. Gail is from New York, and her mother, Pnina Shvartz, born 1935, was a survivor from Chelm, Poland.

She discovered N2N while she sat shiva, a Jewish period of mourning, after her mom passed away.

She submitted a picture of her mom (photo on left) and the search yielded this photo of Ms. Shvartz, an avid knitter, in a knitting class at a DP camp (photo on right, Pnina marked in red.)

As most everything else Pnina had was lost, these few post-war photos were an important gateway to further solidifying her memory.

ELI

After getting involved with Numbers to Names, Samantha Bader, submitted photos of her grandparents, Eli and Miriam Kleinman. Sam stumbled upon an unmistakable image of Eli Kleinman alongside other men acting as police in the Landsberg DP camp (circled in black in photo on right).

After being liberated, Eli met his wife Miriam, and they were married while at Landsberg.

This discovery and special piece of history would never have been located otherwise.

MEDIA

Google engineer identifies anonymous faces in WWII photos with AI facial recognition

THE TIMES OF ISRAEL

Numbers to Names website finds photos of Holocaust victims, survivors

The Washington Post
Democracy Dies in Darkness

Contact us

www.epkinc.com